O. R. King, colored, a former janitor ertheless, has developed into an impor-tant factor in the business of many post ffices and localities. Postmaster Praeger of this city, accordng to the statement, says by far the nost importat cause of damage to this class of parcel mail is improper packing. Business Expands.

"As a result of the campaign by this office," he states, "there has been a marked increase in the receipt of farm H products of approximately 75 per cent. A count made during three days, June average receipt of 225 packages of farm products daily and an average dispatch of 168 perishable articles. During the period from July 13 to August 1 there were received 59,770 parcel post packages of all descriptions, of which less than one tenth of 1 per cent were damaged." Twelve of these, he says, were properly packed, and seventy-six improperly packed. Deliveries are made twice daily in the residential sections, at 8 a.m. and at 2 p.m., and three times daily in the business section, at 8 a.m., noon and 2 p.m. In addition, parcels containing perishable matter are delivered by mounted carriers in the afternoon and evening until 9 p.m. and on Sundays 1 evening until 9 p.m. and on Sundays evening until 9 p.m. and on Sundays at 3 p.m.

Up to August 4, all told, he adds, 445 farmers had formally asked to have their names put upon the list of producers circulated among the Washington public, and these offer eggs, butter, poultry, vegetables, fruit and miscellaneous produce, such as nuts, jellies, hams, meats pickles, lard, homemade cakes, oysters, clams and the like.

George M. Bowerman, librarian of the Public Library, Mr. Praeger says, has taken an active interest in the new service, and copies of all letters from farmers quoting prices were sent to board in the library. The Housekeepers' Alliance, an organization of women interested in reducing the cost of living, he says, has co-operated actively in urging housewives to avail themselves of the opportunity to obtain fresh produce direct from the farms.

The statement then goes into detail showing the experiences in each of the cities named for the experiment.

Nation's Progress Due to Scholars and Scientists, Not to Armament

Declaring that Germany was not a warlike nation and that her great progress since the Franco-Prussian struggle could not in any way be attributed to her vast scientists, Chaplain Henry A. Brown of the army spoke at the services held yesterday afternoon at the foot of the peace cross in Mount St. Alban close.

Defense of Arbitration.

"Persons not well acquainted with the 5 principles of the peace advocates," said Chaplain Brown, in defending arbitration, "are apt to accuse them of desiring peace at any price, but have you ever heard this theory advanced by them; I myself can well imagine causes which Ave. 2.33 might render war between nations quite necessary. But it is certainly not a thing necessary. But it is certainly not a thing to be resorted to at once.

"The great nations of the earth are not those constantly involved in strife. Those who advocate war declare it is a 'natural' thing; one that cannot be done away with without a nation losing its virillity. According to that reasoning, the tribes of South Africa, the Philippines, Santo Domingo and Haiti are the great nations, for they war constantly.

"As for patriotism diminishing if war ceases," said Chaplain Brown, "it cannot any more die than religious belief; both are inherent and immortal."

Prayer for Return to Peace.

Canon De Vries offered prayers for the swift restoration of peace in Europe, for the rulers of the troubled countries, and for the wounded and destitute in the war A section of the Marine Band furnished music. The collection is to be devoted t the work of the American Red Cross.

Conflict Deplored by Many Pastors and Prayers for Peace Offered.

The war in Europe was decried in a number of the churches of Washington yesterday, and in nearly all prayers for speedy peace were offered That "Europe has forgotten God," was asserted by Rev. Dr. Herbert Booth Smith of Knoxville, Tenn., at the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, "The one outstanding lesson of this awful "That civilization apart from Christianity power in civilization itself, for the first civilization of the world was founded by men who had gone out of the pres ence of the Lord. And there is nothing in our skyscrapers and submarines and subways and wireless telegraphs and aeroplanes that will keep men in the hour of storm and stress.

Europe an Example.

"For proof of this, look at Europe today. Who would have thought that the Europe of the twentieth century, with all its ententes and dreibunds and Hague tribunals and peace palaces—that this Europe would split itself up into a lot of war dogs rushing at each other's throats, while the very stones in the Peace Palace laugh in derision at 'what fools these mortals be.'"

Deploring the war as barbarous and saying it is a blow to civilization, Rev. James Smith at St. Patrick's Church yesterday, admonished his auditors to pray for a speedy end of hostilities. He said the Catholic Church of Europe is passing through the greatest crisis it has ever experienced.
